Court approves new anti-gang injunction

■ Some targeted by gang injunction are still fighting it; those that didn't fight it are now subject to curfew, restricted rights of association, and other measures when inside a "safety zone" in northern West Sacramento

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A West Sacramento "anti-gang" injunction is once again in effect.

The Yolo County District Attorney's office announced on Saturday that Judge Timothy Fall issued the permanent injunction on December 19, creating a "Safety Zone" in the city in which alleged gang members are restricted from associating with each other and from being out at night under most circumstances. The injunction targets the "Broderick Boys" of the city's north, and specifically names 20 of them.

The anti-gang injunction is now in effect against nine of those named by Fall's ruling who did not show up to contest the proposal. The other 11 people named have obtained legal counsel and are fighting the injunction, said

Deputy District Attorney Jay Linden. The nine defendants successfully targeted, though, are prohibited from associating not just with each other but with any "known" member of their gang. The D.A.'s office in the past has estimated that membership at around 400 people.

Linden commented on the immediate effect on the nine who didn't fight the order:

"For those who did not show up, we weren't going to sit and wait forever," he said in a press release. "We filed the paperwork, and the judge granted a default judgment against those individuals."

The D.A.'s office – working with West Sacramento's police – has said that restricting the activities of gang members lowers crime in the city. A previous anti-gang injunction did so until a state court struck it down earlier this year, said police and the D.A.'s office. But it was struck down by an appeals court which said those targeted by the injunction weren't given an adequate chance to respond to it.

Some local activists as well as civil rights activists – including the American Civil Liberties Union – fought the first injunction.

The new injunction prevents the nine people named "from associating with other gang members in public, trespassing, possessing weapons, possessing graffiti tools, possessing drugs and/or alcohol or intimidating witnesses," said the D.A.'s office. It also imposes a 10 p.m.-to-sunrise curfew for members.

The curfew and other restrictions apply to the nine alleged "Broderick Boys" members within a legally-defined "safety zone" that includes much of northern West Sacramento. Borders of the "safety zone" include the Sacramento River to the north and east, U.S. 50 freeway connecting to the Tower Bridge approach at the south, and Harbor Boulevard to the west – although the new "Rivers" subdivision along the riverfront is not part of the zone.

District Attorney Jeff Reisig, in a press release, said that "an effective response must focus on prevention, intervention, education and enforcement." But "when sanctioned and monitored by the courts, gang injunctions are a lawful and powerful tool that responsible civic leaders should consider in appropriate situations," he added.

Reisig also said that by pursuing the injunction, "city leaders have demonstrated their commitment to public safety in West Sacramento."

Brownies bring cheer

West Sacramento's Brownie Troop 447 paid a call to the county's animal services department in Woodland on December 13, bringing Christmas stockings full of toys and treats for the animals as well as goodies for the animal shelter employees. They also brought a monetary donation to help care for shelter animals awaiting possible adoption. Sergeant Mike Nevis gave the visitors a tour of the facility, including a look at animals including cats, dogs, goats, a donkey, guinea pigs and other pets.

The girls in Troop 447 include Kylee and Kelsey Hall, Shelby and Sydney Giesler, Kara Talbott, Antonia Cooks, Mia Corralejo, Mia Lopez, Ariane and Melina Cavett, Rachel Wong and Alyssa Klein. Troop leaders are Samantha Geisler and Tammy Hall.

Woman pulled from apartment after cooking fire starts on B St.

A woman was rescued from her burning apartment in West Sacramento on Christmas eve.

According to city fire department records, an engine responded to a structure fire on the 500-block of B Street shortly after 11 p.m. The crew found smoke coming from a downstairs apartment, where they found a woman asleep in a front room. A fire had been started by a stove left unattended. The woman was taken out of the apartment, treated and released. The fire was successfully extinguished.

In other fire department news from the past week:

■ Firefighters joined employees of the California School Boards Association (based in West Sacramento) to deliver holiday gifts to 122 families in need. The association buys the gifts after coming up with a list of families who need help. Firefighters then deliver the goodies.

■ Fire department

management staff held a three-day management retreat in Truckee from December 17-19, meeting with a facilitator to talk about strategies, goals and needs. City manager Toby Ross participated on Dec. 17.

■ An engine and firefighters' boat responded to assist CHP and West Sacramento police with a possible suicide attempt on the Bryte Bend Bridge near Reed Avenue and the Sacramento River. A woman was detained by police and treated by fire crews.

City charity meets & greets some of the organizations it helps to fund

From the West Sacramento Foundation

The West Sacramento Foundation hosted a reception for representatives from various community organizations that received grants from the Foundation in 2007. The reception was held on December 13 at the Club Pheasant. Sponsors from prior fundraising golf tournaments were also present to congratulate the grant recipients.

Rob Aragon, President of the Foundation Board, introduced each of the representatives of the seven organizations that received grants this year. Each representative provided a brief presentation.

Anne Eychaner represented the Girl Scouts of Central California. Jennifer De La Cruz represented the River City Science Club. Nicky McCabe and Jolaine Beers represented the Elderly Nutrition Program. The

Einstein Education Center was represented by Ronda Adams. The Yolo Family Services Agency was represented by James Rodgers. CommuniCare Health Centers was represented by John Bonner. Jose Martinez represented the Food Bank of Yolo County. Sponsors in attendance were: Tom Morrow of Morrow Surveying, Andy Wallace of Wallace Kuhl, Bob Hemond of the RiverCats, and Tom Lambrazo of the Vino del Lago development project.

Aragon thanked the community organizations for the services they provide to the West Sacramento community and the sponsors for their generosity.

Councilmember Bill Kristoff, a member of the original Foundation Board of Directors, gave a brief history of the Foundation.

He noted that when the City incorporated, there was a concern that when the County ceased to be the provider of local government services, there would be a need to be prepared to fill any "gaps in services" that could result. He particularly noted the roles played by Robert Garcia, Rodney Pierini, and Clark Cameron, former County Supervisor representing West Sacramento.

Security firm comes up with gifts

West Sacramento's "All Phase Security" joined the spirit of the holiday season with an internal toy drive that provided some happiness for three local families. Management team members Christian Beyer and Brian Brisco pitched the idea to CEO Ken Garrett.

"Once we had the families in place and the ages of the kids in the families, we started to collect toys and food from other managers," said Brisco. "Ken (Garrett) pitched in and we evenly rounded out the donations. We were able to provide each child with at least four toys to open on Christmas and each family with enough food to have an adequate Christmas dinner."

The security company hopes to launch a bigger effort next year. "If we start collecting earlier, we should be able to reach more families in the future," said Beyer.

A few New Year's resolutions from the past

Editor's note: Daryl is taking the holidays off from column writing, but since he didn't manage to keep very many of the New Year's resolutions he made way back in 1999, here they are again.

An old friend of mine who dropped by for a little visit over the holidays turned out to have a number of interesting suggestions for this column. "You know what I would do if I was writing the darn thing?" he asked with conviction.

"What?" I asked politely.

"Well, to begin with, I'd talk more about politics. You hardly ever mention all the stuff that's going on back in Washington, D.C.. For instance, you should take a clear, no-nonsense stand on Bill Clinton's shameless lack of morals and then write about it for a good month or so. I bet that would really fire up your readers."

"But I don't think I want my readers fired up," I tried to explain. "Plus I'm afraid I don't really care what happens to Bill Clinton one way or the other."

"You're kidding?"

"Nope. If he goes away, then Al Gore will be president, and he seems like a pretty capable guy. And if Clinton stays, he'll no doubt keep driving all those poor right-wing Republicans crazy, and that's always entertaining to watch."

Fifteen or twenty minutes further into our conversation, my friend did hit upon an idea which seemed to have some potential. "1999 is just around the corner," he said, "so why don't you write a column about your New Year's resolutions?"

"But I don't think I have any New Year's resolutions," I said, quickly searching my mind to see if I had a few buried somewhere.

"But all the big-time newspaper columnists talk about their resolutions every single year," my friend assured me. "Couldn't you just make up a few? I mean, who's going to know the difference?"

"Well," I had to admit, "it would definitely beat writing about Bill Clinton. Thanks for the suggestion. I'll see what I can come up with."

New Year's resolution #1: I will no longer spend half-an-hour every morning trying to wake up my teenage sons so they won't be late for school. If they want to spend all night playing video games and grow up to be as dumb as trees, then so be it.

New Year's resolution #2: I will stop pretending that if you eat something and no one sees

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

you do it, it has no calories.

New Year's resolution #3: I won't go to any more high school reunions. I mean, how many times must someone be expected to smile and say "hi" to people who used to make your life miserable?

New Year's resolution #4: I'm going to try and do a better job of remembering that "If there is any kindness I can do, let me do it now, for I shall not pass this way again."

New Year's resolution #5: I will start wearing cords again, if I can only find a store that still sells them.

New Year's resolution #6: I will stop suffering fools gladly, even those I'm related to.

New Year's resolution #7: I will stop making such an effort to save money, the idea being that it will give the kids one less thing to fight about in the future.

New Year's resolution #8: I will break down and purchase a second pair of glasses. It's ridiculous to spend more time trying to remember where I left the darn things than I do using them.

New Year's resolution #9: When one or more of my kids come home with yet another broken heart, I'm going to remind them of what Nicholas Cage said to Cher in the wonderful movie Moonstruck, that "We are not perfect. The stars and the snowflakes are perfect. We are here to ruin ourselves -- to break our hearts -- to love all the wrong people."

New Year's resolution #10: I'm going to call the telephone company and get rid of whatever it is that allows my daughter to *69 people.

New Year's resolution #11: I'm not going to insist on my kids knowing what they want to be when they grow up until I have a better handle on that myself.

New Year's resolution #12: I'm going to pay more attention to fads. I read somewhere that Madonna and ex-Spice Girl Geri Halliwell have both decided to start practicing celibacy and really get into housework, and those are the kinds of trends that a guy should be aware of.

New Year's resolution #13: I will try to find a way to wash my dog that ends up with him being wetter than me.

New Year's resolution #14: I'm going to try and become a much better speller. I mean, there's simply no excuse for getting words like Lebanese and Lesbian mixed up.

New Year's resolution #15: I'm going to give up on trying to appreciate rap music. I think it's best to just admit that what little musical taste I have begins and ends with Bob Dylan and leave it at that.

New Year's resolution #16: And finally, in 1999, instead of making any grand plans or dwelling too much on the past and all those things I can't change, I think I'll just try to spend more time reflecting on maybe the most important truth of them all -- that it's all free time.

Happy New Year!

SPORTS INSIDER

By Richard Novoa

Happy New Year! Are you ready for another prosperous year of sports? Well, 2008 might not be so prosperous for a few NFL coaches, especially 49ers coach Mike Nolan.

The big question is, should the Niners fire Mike Nolan? 49ers owners John and Jed York must decide soon to begin their search for a replacement especially after the Baltimore fired their coach Brian Billick after nine seasons. Billick, who will be in high demand, would be an excellent replacement for the troubled franchise.

I hate to say it but Nolan should be fired for a couple of major reasons. First of all, his handling of injured quarterback Alex Smith's return to action was a travesty.

The young QB, who dislocated his throwing shoulder, after being sacked for the millionth time, was forced to return to the starting line-up to soon and was re-injured and has since undergone surgery to repair his damaged wing. The Niners pay him a king's ransom to play football so their investment should have been handled with the team future in mind.

Also, Coach Nolan's plan to use 35-year old quarterback, Trent Dilfer, as his second string QB instead of signing or keeping a younger player proved to be another crucial mistake. He should have hired Dilfer as his offensive coordinator!

Secondly, the coach exhibited a very mean streak towards the media and whole lot of stubbornness in regards to his situation with the 49ers offensive scheme. 49ers offensive coordinator was just plain awful and inexperienced for NFL play calling. The 49ers, who lost eight straight football games after a 2-0 start, were the laughing stock of the NFL. The 49ers should have replaced Hostler but instead Nolan hired an assistant coordinator to assist the confused play caller!

The end result was that the 49ers ranked (32) last in the NFL offensively with 13.7 points per game and only scored 219 points compared to the league leading Patriots, who averaged 36.8 and scored 589 points. The Niners offense averaged 237 yards per game with 36 fumbles and allowed their quarterbacks to be sacked 55 times! Ouch!

NFL Regular Season Ends

The regular season has ended and the Super Bowl bus is loaded with playoff contenders but its pretty clear that road to Super Bowl XLII on February 3rd in Arizona is set to go through New England.

In the NFC, the Cowboys and Packers are odds on favorites because of first round byes while the Redskins (+4) travel to Seattle on Saturday (1:30) and Tampa Bay (-3) hosts the Giants on Sunday (10 a.m.).

In the AFC, New England is a huge favorite to win the whole enchilada but don't count out the Colts. Both teams earned first round byes while Jacksonville invades Pittsburgh as a one-point favorite on Saturday (5 p.m.) and San Diego (-8) hosts Tennessee (1:30).

Aztec's Picks

On Saturday the dog likes Seattle (-4) to soar at home over the Skins and the Jags will eat up Big Ben in Pittsburgh and the on Sunday, the New York Giants (+3) will outlast the Bucs and the his "Lick of the Week" will be the Chargers (-8) at home against the beat up Titans.

2008 49ers & Raiders Schedule

The order of the first round of the 2008 Draft was announced on Monday, with the Miami Dolphins making the first choice of the draft, which will be held on April 26-27.

The Dolphins' choice will be followed by the St. Louis Rams picking second and either the Atlanta Falcons or Oakland Raiders third.

The 49ers traded their 2008 pick to the New England Patriots to move up in last year's draft to get right tackle Joe Staley. The 49ers do get a pick (31st overall) in the first round of 2008, courtesy of a trade with the Colts.

The 49ers home schedule for next season will include Arizona, St. Louis, Seattle, Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, New York Jets, and New England. The Niners will hit the road to Arizona, St. Louis, Seattle, Dallas, New York, New Orleans, Buffalo, and Miami.

The Silver and Black will host San Diego, Kansas City, Denver, Houston, New England, Atlanta, and the New York Jets and travel to San Diego, Denver, KC, Buffalo, Baltimore, Miami, Tampa Bay, and New Orleans.

Kings Korner

The Sacramento Kings (11-18) returned full of fire to the friendly confines of the Arco Arena after their best road trip in years, only to lose four straight games. Then, to throw salt on the wound, they lost another star player. The Kings will be without the services of Ron Artest for a few weeks as he joins Bibby and Martin on the disabled list. Artest will be out two weeks after the removal of the bone chip in his right elbow while Bibby is rumored to return to the line-up around Jan. 16th in Toronto but K-Mart will still need at least one more week to recover from his groin injury.

The Kings will be on the road again with a short three game east coast journey that will take them to New York (4:30) on Wednesday followed by Cleveland on Friday (4:30) and Chicago on Saturday (5:30) night.

Korner Kicks

The United States national soccer team will play an exhibition game on January 19th against Sweden in Carson as they begin preparations for the start of the qualifying rounds for the 2010 World Cup in South Africa. Team captain Landon Donovan will lead the Red, White, and Blue after a first-round bye in a home and home series starting in June.

Enjoy your day – see ya next week!

Employees Retirement Law, and Certain Proceedings Leading Thereto, Including the Adoption of a Resolution that Authorizes the Issuance of Pension Obligation Bonds and the Execution and Delivery of a Trust Agreement Relating to the Issuance of Such Bonds:

Plaintiff has filed a civil complaint against you. You may contest the validity of the above matter by appearing and filing with the Court a written responsive pleading to the complaint not later January 21, 2008, which is ten (10) days or more after the completion of the publication of this summons. Your pleading must be in the form required by the California Rules of Court. Your original pleading must be filed in this Court with proper filing fees and proof that a copy thereof was served on Plaintiff's attorney. Unless you so respond, your default will be entered upon Plaintiff's application, and the Plaintiff may apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Persons who contest the validity of the matter described below and in the complaint will not be subject to punitive action, such as wage garnishment or seizure of their real or personal property.

You may obtain a copy of the Summons and Complaint in this matter by making a written request to counsel for the Plaintiff.

DETAILED SUMMARY OF THE MATTER THAT PLAINTIFF SEEKS TO VALIDATE:

The County provides its employees with a retirement plan under the requirements of the Public Employees Retirement Law, California Government Code section 20000 et seq. (the "Retirement Law"), pursuant to a contract, as amended from time to time (the "PERS Contract"), it has entered into with the Public Employees Retirement System (the "System"). The Retirement Law obligates the County, among other things, to: (a) make annual contributions to the System; (b) amortize the unfunded accrued actuarial liability of the County, which is the liability that has accrued but which the County has not yet paid to the System (the unfunded liability, hereinafter, the "Pension Obligation"); and (c) appropriate funds to meet these obligations.

The County currently must pay the System interest on the Pension Obligation at the rate of seven and three quarters percent per annum. The County understands and believes that, in the current market, it can issue taxable bonds at an interest rate of less than seven and three quarters percent per annum. Thus, the County can realize a substantial savings by issuing bonds, using the proceeds to refund its Pension Obligation, and thereby pay a lower interest rate on the bonds than the rate it would otherwise have to pay to the System.

On August 8, 2007, the Board of Supervisors adopted a resolution (the "Resolution") which authorized and approved the issuance and sale of the Pension Obligation Bonds for the purpose of refunding the Pension Obligation, and to pay costs of issuance, underwriter's discount, and original issue discount, if any, in connection with the Pension Obligation Bonds. The County also approved and authorized the issuance and sale of Additional Bonds from time to time in the future for similar purposes. The Pension Obligation Bonds will be in an aggregate principal amount which shall not exceed the principal amount of the Pension Obligation plus any underwriter's discount, original issue discount, and costs of issuance related to the Pension Obligation Bonds, and will mature not later than thirty years from the date of issuance.

The County filed this validation action to obtain a judicial declaration of the validity of the matters alleged in the County's complaint and described herein. In this action, the County seeks a judgment from the Court that, among other things, all proceedings by and for the County in connection with the Resolution, the Pension Obligation Bonds and any Additional Bonds, the Trust Agreement, and the other related agreements authorized by the County, were, are and will be valid, legal and binding, and were, are and will be in conformity with the applicable provisions of all laws and enactments at any time in force or controlling upon such proceedings, whether imposed by law, constitution, or statute.

YOU MAY SEEK THE ADVICE OF AN ATTORNEY IN ANY MATTER CONNECTED WITH THE COMPLAINT OR THIS SUMMONS. SUCH ATTORNEY SHOULD BE CONSULTED PROMPTLY SO THAT YOUR PLEADING MAY BE FILED OR ENTERED WITHIN THE TIME REQUIRED BY THIS SUMMONS.

Dec. 29, 12:55 p.m.

A group was carrying BB guns that looked like handguns, and "shooting each other and random objects." The caller was concerned because her cat had been recently shot with a BB gun, and she did not know if the same suspects were involved.

A suspect was seen at an Ikea Court store switching the price tag on a $280 bicycle for a tag from a $47 bike, then paying the lower price for the expensive bike and trying to leave the store. He was detained and arrested. The man was on probation for a previous theft conviction.

Dec. 30, 6:52 p.m.

Reward offered in search for animal abuser:

Cat dies after being doused in motor oil

A strange attack on a west Yolo County cat in December has prompted a $5,000 reward offer from the Humane Society of the United States and from the Friends of the Placer County Animal Shelter.

The cat's owners returned to their home in Esparto one day in late December to find "Cinni," their female cat, covered in motor oil, having seizures, and vomiting from ingesting some of the oil.

They took the pet to a Woodland veterinarian, who tried to save her, then euthanized her for humane reasons. The county's animal services department picked up the animal and a necropsy was planned at the UC Davis school of medicine.

Said Sheriff Ed Prieto in a press statement:

"It's sad that an innocent cat's life ended in such an inhumane way. If anyone has information or knowledge of this crime or of another incident of this nature, please contact the Yolo County Sheriff's Department, Animal Services Section, at (530) 668-5287."

The Sacramento River registered four feet three inches, United States gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday.

L. Dagner has been named resident mechanic by the General Petroleum Corporation at the Westgate depot and has already taken charge. Mr. Dagner comes from Los Angeles from the headquarters of the corporation and will be in charge of mechanical conditions at all substations of the General Petroleum Corporation between Sacramento and the Oregon line. During the war Mr. Dagner held a responsible position with the government with the title of M. S. E. A. M., which, being translated, means Master of the Signal Engineers of the Aeronautical Motors. He expects to move his family to Westgate soon after the first of the year and has already been looking over some homes in that locality.

John A. McNulty is expected to arrive at Westgate this evening or early tomorrow, and during the absence of his brother, James P. McNulty, will have charge of operations at Westgate. John McNulty has been operating in Los Angeles and other sections as a member of McNulty Brothers.

James P. McNulty left Westgate yesterday afternoon for San Francisco from which place he will proceed to Los Angeles and the southern part of the state to be absent for some time.

M. Reynolds moved into his new home in Westgate Tuesday. He came from Sacramento to avoid heavy city taxes.

S. A. Walters, who intended to open the restaurant in Westgate, has purchased a new home in the district just south of headquarters. This is one of the only brick homes in the district, all the other bungalows being built of stucco.

F. Delay and family of Courtland were visitors last Tuesday at the Lindquist home in Westgate. They returned to Courtland on Tuesday evening.

Al Partridge of the West Side Auto Camp, with several friends, was out last week on a quiet little hunt for ducks, but unfortunately failed to get any ducks for himself—or the friends he had promised. The truck they were using on the trip broke down about two miles from the shooting grounds and rather than walk a distance like that they returned to Washington in tow of one of the motor busses running north to Redding. But they had a good time, nevertheless.

Before Judge Barry last Tuesday Manuel Flores of Sacramento was sentenced to six months in the county jail on a charge of simple assault. Flores had been accused of stabbing a friend about two weeks ago with a knife and inflicting serious wounds while he and his friends were out on a spree. The testimony at the trial went to show that he is an industrious man, living at 1521 Fourteenth street, Sacramento and has two children and a young wife to support. On presentation of this evidence, Judge Barry suspended the six months sentence, but warned him to keep out of Washington and get back to his job as quickly as possible.

Ben Fontz, working at Twelfth and H streets, Sacramento, was arrested last Wednesday by Traffic Officer Jacobs because he failed to show up on a citation given him on November 15 for reckless driving. When he showed up last Wednesday he made many kinds of excuses, declaring that he did not understand that he was to appear and several of a similar character. On the showing made by him Judge Barry fined him $50.00 or fifty days in the county jail. He paid the fine.

Mrs. C. Hart was reported yesterday to be improving from her late sickness. Her sister, Mrs. D. Knight of Fresno, is still with her at her home on Second street.

George Thomas, familiarly known as "Rosie," very nearly got into trouble last Wednesday morning when he was driving a large beer truck out of his yard on Second street on his way to work. Backing quietly out of the yard of his home and a heavy fog hanging over the locality he was run down by Fred Kripp of Sacramento, who was out doing some early work on his ranch near the M street bridge. Kripp failed to see the truck driven by "Rosie" Thomas and ran into it, damaging Kripp's Premier car in the amount of about $100. The Thomas truck was scarcely marred, having only a few paint scratches visible after the collision.

W. Campbell, familiarly known as "Bill" Campbell, for several years a resident of Washington, was over from Woodland last Saturday visiting old friends and renewing acquaintances. West Sacramento Improvement Association Makes Auspicious Start at Large Meeting Held Last Friday Night

At the headquarters of the West Sacramento Company last Friday evening about sixty taxpayers and residents of the district were present in response to a call that had been sent out through the Independent and through the mail asking the formation of a club.

Headquarters was crowded to the doors and following the meeting refreshments were distributed by the ladies of the club to everybody present.

A. M. Jongeneel, who had been named temporary chairman at a previous meeting, presided last Friday evening.

Under his direction a set of by-laws had been written out with the aid of J. P. Carrico and J. B. Pettijohn.

These by-laws were adopted at the meeting last Friday night and at the same time the name of the club was settled as West Sacramento Improvement Association.

The by-laws of the club provide that members will pay dues in the amount of 50 cents for each quarter or $2.00 per year.

A board of directors consisting of seven will be the governing body of the organization. Of these seven directors, three are to be elected and the other four will be the elected officers of the association.

All persons who are owners or their representatives, renters, and residents over 18 years of age, are eligible to membership in the club.

An election of officers was made by secret ballot, everybody present being entitled to cast a vote.

The result of this ballot showed that A. M. Jongeneel received 31 votes, J. P. Carrico 19, and J. B. Pettijohn 16.

A. M. Jongeneel was immediately declared president of the association.

The by-laws also provide that several committees will be named by the president. These are: Road Committee, five members; Ditch Committee, five members; Entertainment and Reception Committee, eleven members; Levee Committee, five members; Membership Committee, five members; Advertising and Publicity Committee, five members.

These committees will be named by the president before the next meeting. All meetings of the club will be held on the first Friday of each month.

Other officers elected at the meeting last Friday evening were: J. P. Carrico, first vice president; C. T. Williams, second vice president.

Mrs. Jessie Borchers was nominated and elected secretary by acclamation. Mrs. F. E. Miller was nominated and elected treasurer by acclamation.

G. T. Vaughn was named assistant secretary by acclamation.

Mrs. Earl Withycombe was elected assistant treasurer by acclamation. A section of the by-laws provides that the association shall be non-political and non-sectarian.

Quite a contest took place when it came to the election of directors. Three of these to act with the four elected officers are to constitute the board of directors.

Nominations were made consisting of seven members: C. C. Metcalf, J. Maguire, T. J. Carrico, Earl Withycombe, J. J. Scott, F. E. Miller and J. C. Bode.

The result of the election for directors was as follows in votes: J. J. Scott, 51; F. E. Miller, 44; T. J. Carrico, 35; C. C. Metcalf, 25; J. Maguire, 25; E. Withycombe, 17; J. C. Bode, 13.

The three first named above were declared elected to the board of directors.

Following the routine business of the association, J. P. McNulty delivered an eloquent talk on the possibilities that lie in the future for the West Sacramento district, but asked that each and every one of those present cooperate in the work of improvement.

Mr. McNulty promised that the street work in Westgate would be started within the next week and that other important improvements were about to be taken up by the promoters of the district.

He called attention to the possibility of building a bridge from the foot of W street in Sacramento, which would land traffic right at headquarters in West Sacramento.

When the meeting adjourned everybody present was asked to remain and partake of refreshments which had been procured by the ladies of the immediate neighborhood.

LEVEE ROAD CLEARED AND GRADED TO RIVERVIEW MAN KILLED NEAR YOLO CAUSEWAY BY AUTO DRIVER

South of West Sacramento headquarters and extending nearly to Riverview, the work of clearing and grading the levee road has been completed.

The cost of this work was allowed by the board of supervisors of Yolo County out of the general fund and not, as some people believe, out of the district fund of the first supervisor district.

The shoulders placed on the improved highway on Jefferson Boulevard and which are now completed, were also done out of the general fund of the county treasury and not out of the road fund of the first supervisor district.

It is the ambition of Supervisor Buckingham to get the levee road rocked or macadamized early next spring, if possible, and if the work cannot be done during the spring it will be done soon after July 1 when funds will be available.

This stretch of road runs a distance of about 3½ miles along the crown of the levee as far as the Sousa ranch. At that point it turns off the levee to meet the concrete highway that runs to Riverview Station.

The levee road is a favorite place for fishing and bathing, especially for the people of this district. Indeed, hundreds of people from Sacramento use this road every Sunday in their bathing and fishing expeditions. There is ample shade and much enjoyment for those who take pleasure in the sport.

RANCHER IS KILLED ON RABBIT HUNT NEAR RYDE

Tony A. Abrew, a rancher, living five miles southeast of Ryde, was killed last night when his shotgun accidentally exploded as he was hunting rabbits on his farm.

The charge struck him in the abdomen and, though the man was rushed to Sacramento by Deputy Sheriff Harry Bryant, he was dead before he could be given treatment at the Sutter Hospital.

An account of the accident, as secured by Coroner John T. Skelton, is to the effect that Abrew had been raking dead asparagus plants yesterday afternoon. Beside him, on his raking machine, he placed a shotgun in order to shoot rabbits as he worked. The weapon fell against the rake and exploded, the charge of light shot striking Abrew full in the body.

Woodland, Dec. 7.—Efforts were being made this morning to link the driver of an automobile registered from Vallejo, found wrecked in a ditch a mile east of the Yolo causeway, with the death of an unidentified man, whose body was found near the early Sunday morning. The man, evidently a laborer, had been dragged by a machine for more than fifty feet.

Constable Leroy Hillhouse and Captain of Traffic Henry P. Jacobs were notified of the death, as was Coroner Ross C. Wilson, who took charge of the body yesterday morning.

This morning Wilson had nothing which would identify the dead man and was conducting a search for relatives or friends.

According to first reports of the accident, the motorist struck the man and fled without rendering aid. The automobile was later discovered, the driver having disappeared, and while nothing was discovered to connect the automobile with the death of the unidentified laborer, authorities have a suspicion that the car may be in some way connected with the accident as it was ascertained that the automobile went into the ditch shortly after the accident occurred.

According to Traffic Officer Jacobs, the car, which was a Durant coupe, contained some wine, which had been spilled when it turned into the ditch. The car was on the wrong side of the road, Jacobs stated.

The body was discovered by a group of negro children, who reside near the scene of the accident, and later found by Ed. Orser, resident of this city. A Japanese rancher is said to have notified the coroner of the accident.

According to Wilson, the man was evidently walking on the highway when the accident occurred. It is believed that the man was about 35 years of age. The body lay in the road several hours before it was picked up, it is stated.

An inquest will be held on the accident in a few days, according to Wilson.

FIVE ACRES SOLD BY WEST SACRAMENTO COMPANY NEAR THE NEW SUBWAY

Adjoining the Lawrence property north of the new subway that is being built under the Sacramento Northern Railroad tracks, D. J. Silvey and J. I. Silva have purchased from the West Sacramento Company five acres of land.

The Silva boys took over the Lawrence property some time ago and in order to fill out their holding, purchased the five acres immediately west of the Lawrence place.

It is understood that the price paid was about $200 per acre. The deal is not yet completed but will be finished before the end of the week.

BOOSTERS' CLUB DEVOTES TIME TO SHACK BUILDING

At the meeting of the Washington Boosters' Club last Tuesday evening in the town hall, the question of the prevention of building shacks within the town limits took up considerable time.

A large meeting of property owners was held last Tuesday evening and each and every person present was deeply interested in this important question.

Property owners recognize that the construction of shacks in vacant lots is no credit to the community and in addition is threatening the valuations of property that exist at the present time.

Those present at the meeting last Tuesday evening expressed themselves as being deeply opposed to these shacks because as long as they exist no decent homes will be erected in their neighborhood.

Then again, it has been noticed that these shacks are a drawing card for the very poorest class of people, people who are anxious to take advantage of the cheapest possible living conditions, and who are really only itinerants, ready to move at any moment.

In addition, these shacks are good hiding places for criminals who would temporarily get out of the way of peace officers and find these shacks convenient places for the time being.

The rentals of those shacks vary between $10 and $20 a month and really menace a community where they are established because they are an incentive to idleness and laziness.

It is an acknowledged fact that property values in the neighborhood of these congregated shacks must depreciate and can never recuperate as long as these buildings exist.

The Boosters' Club recognizes that these shacks are more of a detriment to the Washington community than all the Chinese gambling houses put together or all the bootleg joints combined.

While gambling houses can be suppressed and bootleggers forced to move, these shacks are, on the surface, respectable and clean places for poor people to live, but at the same time are not conducive to progress for any community or any place where they are established.

In denouncing these shacks, the Boosters' Club wants it understood that no reference whatever is made to the camping grounds, where the avowed purpose is to house people for a night or two in temporary quarters, allowing them to move on to other places in a few days.

The camping grounds are now

COURSING MEET TO BE HELD SUNDAY NEAR DAVIS

The drawing for the two stakes was held Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel for the coursing meet to be held Sunday at Montgomery's Field, near Davis. Entries from all parts of Superior California are in, and Woodland will be well represented with fifteen nominations.

Two stakes will be run—the Open, with eight entries, and the Park Stake, with twenty entries.

The draw was as follows: The Open—Play Boy, Jr., vs. For Glory; Ambitious vs. Reory O.; John M. vs. Warlow, Jr.; Take Notice vs. Billie Blade.

Park Stake—Jerry Wild vs. Pretty Face; Princess vs. Yolo Joe; Lucky Hour vs. Mortgage Lifter; Esparto Nellie vs. Play Boy, Sr.; Snapper Garrison vs. Sweet Lady; Gernsey Cream vs. Yolo Lad; Saucy Susie vs. Esparto Nellie; Yolo Steam vs. The Sheik; Esparto Rusty vs. O'Baby; Dare Devil vs. Cheetah.

necessary to the traveling public and indeed the camping grounds in Washington have been a drawing card for the community because they give travelers sufficient time to look around for investments at a small expense.

The question of prevention of more building of these shacks will be placed in the hands of the fire commissioners to see if something cannot be done to prevent further extension.

Another question that was discussed at the meeting last Tuesday night was the collection of garbage. It appears that the colored men who have lately been collecting garbage gave up the job because the owner of a property that had been used for dumping grounds threatened the collectors with vengeance and with a shotgun if they dumped any more garbage on his property.

As a solution of this question a committee of three was appointed to find if it would not be possible to get permission from the city authorities of Sacramento to haul the garbage out of Washington to the incinerator north of the city limits of Sacramento.

It was argued that Sacramento was taking the sewerage of North Sacramento and that perhaps the city authorities would be glad to permit the incineration of the garbage from the homes of Washington as a like favor.

E. A. Palm, A. M. Cameron and J. Pereira were appointed a committee of three to interview the city authorities of Sacramento in relation to this question.

Refreshments were served after the meeting and a social hour of conversation enjoyed by those present.

It's nice that agendas for Washington Unified School District meetings are now available online. The meeting minutes are also going to be available online, although when the News-Ledger checked this week, no minutes from meetings in October, November or December had yet been published to the web.

The more openness and public accessibility, the better.

Sacramento police released a surveillance video of a crook with a chain saw going to work on an ATM machine at a Light Rail Station near Folsom Boulevard. That suspect is still on the loose, but police say they nabbed two other ATM theft suspects who are believed to have used a hand-held power saw to get cash out of those machines.

Over here in West Sac, a crook recently used a hand-held, battery powered saw to take the catalytic converter (an expensive replacement part) from a Mercedes parked near Evergreen Avenue.

These kinds of stories seem to back up a statement made recently by a friend of the News-Ledger: improvements in battery-powered saws and other hand-held tools are going to make certain types of theft easier and easier to pull off.

There's a big, pretty "holiday tree" still parked out in front of city hall as the holiday season winds to an end. It's decorated and surrounded by wrapped boxes that look a lot like Christmas presents.

So okay, we'll ask:

What is a "holiday tree"? Is it a secular piece of greenery, appropriate to public property? Or is it a religious thing, appropriate for homes, businesses or churches? If it's not religious, what does the star on top of the tree symbolize?

Just wondering.

Only three more weeks until they start playing Christmas music again at the department stores.

Happy New Year, and we hope your 2008 has jumped off to a fine start.

Letters to the Editor

Bring on the homeless

Well, 'twas the season, etc., but now 'tis the rushed political season with all that entails. Some time ago, Northern California Construction and Training (NCCT) came to our fair city council and proposed repairing our old firehouse at the southwest corner of Yolo and Lisbon streets in exchange for its use; to train low income students (welfare recipients, parolees, etc.). We (the affected local residents) had several meetings with representatives of both NCCT and our city council and concluded that it was not something we should allow in our neighborhood as we felt it would not only affect parking, but, and much more importantly, it would expose our young children to strangers of dubious background when they were walking to their respective schools and home again.

That was then, this, of course, is now. In the spirit of "A Modest Proposal", let me put forth "a Bryte idea": Why not turn our old firehouse into a homeless shelter? After all, I have written letters here, phoned code enforcement, faxed said letters to our city councilman, and personally guided a peace officer to the Hobo camp in the vacant lot behind the old black church (now demolished and awaiting rebuilding -- weather permitting) and nothing has been done to eliminate it. The camp, in fact, has now sprouted a tent to go along with the large barbecue. The denizens already spend a good part of their days (and evenings) hanging out in the parking lot of the little market on the corner, so we, as a community, already seem to accept them as non-threatening to our children. What better use of a now dormant community facility than to open it to our local downtrodden? We could even contract with Loaves and Fishes to run it for us.

"If you build it (or allow it) they will come" indeed.

REVISED NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF A DRAFT SUPPLEMENTAL ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT

A Draft Supplemental Environmental Impact Report (SEIR) has been prepared to address a proposed amendment to the City's General Plan. This Draft SEIR has been prepared to address the potential environmental impacts of the proposed project.

The project would amend the General Plan's Goals and Policies to facilitate implementation of flood protection efforts including funding and construction of levee improvement and maintenance projects, as well as increasing public awareness of flood protection. The Draft SEIR notes potential impacts on the environment that the project may cause and contains mitigation measures which, if implemented, would reduce the potential impacts to a less-than-significant level. The Draft SEIR also notes impacts which cannot be mitigated to a less-than-significant level.

Copies of the Draft SEIR became available on December 24, 2007 for public review and comment in the office of the City of West Sacramento Public Works & Community Development Department at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, 2nd Floor, West Sacramento, CA 95691, (916) 617-4645. The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

CRITIC'S CORNER

By D.N.A. Smith

"I Am Legend"

Running time: 1 hour 40 minutes
MPAA rating: PG-13

Sometimes ignorance can be bliss. In the case of "I Am Legend," being blissfully unaware of the source material (Richard Matheson's novel of the same name) might have made the movie more enjoyable. I say this because the theme and the dark irony of the novel are betrayed in favor of a happy Hollywood ending.

In the book, scientist Robert Neville is the monster, the bad guy. The irony of the novel is that the vampires created by Neville's experiments have created a civilization, and Neville has become the stuff of legend — a nocturnal monster who preys upon the vampires, kills them and performs experiments on them.

Neville, the "last man on Earth," is the Boogeyman.

But in the film, Will Smith's Neville is a likable, sympathetic widower frantically trying to find a cure for a virus that has turned virtually every human into a vampire/zombie/monster thing. The monsters, although created by science, are considered the bad guys, not the victims. They have no humanity. They're basically the same mindless, superhuman monsters we've seen in "28 Days Later," a movie series that is 10 times better than "I Am Legend."

Will Smith does a good job in the role of a driven man trying to fend off madness in a solitary world — but then it's not a big stretch for Smith to play a likable character. For two-thirds of the film, Smith is the only person you see onscreen. If the script had concentrated more on character development and Neville's mental state instead of spending the entire third act as yet another shaky-cam zombie shoot 'em up, "I Am Legend" could've been a classic science-fiction movie, one for the ages.

Instead, it's just another mediocre, brainless Hollywood holiday blockbuster.

SUBJECT: NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING TO DETERMINE THE SCOPE OF A DRAFT ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT FOR THE PROPOSED FULCRUM PROPERTIES PROJECT

The City of West Sacramento will hold a scoping meeting for the proposed Fulcrum Properties project (Proposed Project) pursuant to CEQA Guideline 15082. The purpose of the scoping meeting is to solicit input from agencies, organizations, and individuals to assist the lead agency in determining the scope and content of the Draft Environmental Impact Report (Draft EIR). Persons may attend either meeting.

SCOPING MEETING INFORMATION:
Date: Monday, January 14, 2008

Times: 4:00-5:00 p.m., or until the last speaker is heard
6:00-7:00 p.m., or until the last speaker is heard

Location: West Sacramento Civic Center - Galleria Room 157

1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, CA 95691

PROJECT DESCRIPTION: The Proposed Project would result in the reconfiguration of land uses on the approximately 56 acre project site into approximately 18 city blocks and the development of residential, commercial office, medical office, hospital, ancillary retail, open space, and supporting infrastructure.

Residential: Residential development under the Proposed Project would result in the development of up to 2,538 residential units consisting of 2,537,798 square feet. The units would include of a mixture of apartments, condominiums, and townhouses.

Residential development would be located primarily throughout the Waterfront planning sub area, as well as the eastern interior portion of the RGA Edge planning sub area, and would likely occur within portions of Blocks 1 - 13 and Block 18. Residential units would generally range in height from 4-12 stories; however, some buildings along the waterfront could be as high as 25 stories.

Office and Medical: The Proposed Project would include up to 3,453,690 square feet of commercial office, medical office, and hospital uses that would likely be distributed throughout Blocks 4 and 11 - 18. These blocks are located within the RGA Edge, Waterfront, Core, and Park Blocks neighborhoods. The majority of proposed office development would occur in areas of high visibility and direct access from US 50. The proposed office buildings would range in height from five to twenty-five stories.

Retail: The Proposed Project would include up to 217,000 square feet of retail. This retail would be distributed between the ground floor levels of residential and office buildings along the frontages of main roadways.

Parking: Parking would either be provided in the lower levels of buildings, or through the development of multilevel parking garages. Parking would also be developed under the Pioneer Bridge in an area leased by the applicant from Caltrans. In addition, street parking would be provided and designed in accordance with the specifications of the Triangle Specific Plan. Temporary surface parking may be used in lieu of structured parking during the build-out of the Proposed Project.

Open Space: Private and public open space areas are proposed throughout the project site. These open space corridors are planned with visual and physical connections to the waterfront. These connections would be created by aligning streets with public and private open space areas.

Circulation: Regional access to the project site would be provided by existing US 50 and Tower Bridge Gateway. Internal circulation would be provided by a new roadway network system resulting from the proposed reconfiguration of land uses on the project site. This proposed internal roadway network system varies slightly from the previously approved Triangle Specific Plan, which envisions two main roadways (realigned 5th Street and River Road) that would transport vehicular traffic through the project site and under the Pioneer Bridge, which borders the southwestern portion of the project site. The Proposed Project also includes a planned roadway network with two roadways that continue under the Pioneer Bridge (Fifth Street and River Road); however, Fifth Street is planned as the only major access street that would run through the project site. River Road would be realigned to connect to Fifth Street, south of the Pioneer Bridge. The realignment is designed to reduce the traffic moving along the waterfront and encourage more pedestrian activity. River Road would still function as both a major access street, particularly between South Pier and Ball Park Drive, as well as a local access point for proposed office uses adjacent to the bridge. River Road would be designated as a future transit street and could accommodate the proposed "street car" service over the Tower Bridge. The Project Proponent currently has a ground lease with Caltrans but not the right to develop a permanent road under Pioneer Bridge.

Your backstage treats.

"Backstage at The Met, there's a big table of different foods just outside of the dressing rooms. All performers enjoy the fare on the day of the performance. The foods vary with each production. By the end of the third act, the table is usually empty. My favorites are fresh fruits, finger sandwiches, apple strudel, pate and German chocolate cake."

Books

A Lion's Tale: Around the World in Spandex

by Chris Jericho with Peter Thomas Fornatale
(Grand Central Publishing, $25.99)
Reviewed by Chris Richcreek

The same thing that makes Chris Jericho's book "A Lion's Tale" a great success story also makes it a bit of a disappointment.

As a young kid, Jericho dreamed of one day wrestling in the World Wrestling Federation (now World Wrestling Entertainment, or WWE). At the end of the book, he finally realizes that dream, as he debuts in the WWF in 1999.

But that's where the story stops. There are no real tales of his WWF/WWE career, which he recently resumed after a two-year hiatus.

That aside, the rest of the book is a great mixture of humor and wrestling tales on par with or surpassing fellow wrestler Mick Foley's first effort, "Have a Nice Day," which basically launched pro wrestling into book publishing.

Chris Irvine's long journey to becoming "Y2J" Chris Jericho included various levels of wrestling success during stops in Canada, Mexico, Germany, Japan and a number of U.S. promotions. He tells of life on the road and interactions with other wrestlers (including the story of a wrestler who ate sandwiches and stuffed the bread crusts under his mattress, with the end result straight out of a horror movie).

Especially notable is Jericho's relationship with wrestler Chris Benoit, who had a large influence on Jericho's career. As the book was being prepared for publication, Benoit killed himself after allegedly killing his wife and son.

As Jericho says in an author's note, "The man that I knew and loved exists within these pages, not the man that existed during the final days of his life." Jericho gives some insight into why so many wrestlers admired Benoit, helping illustrate why the tragedy cut so deeply in the wrestling community.

Overall, "A Lion's Tale" is insightful, funny and a bit salty in the language department as it details what it took for one man to make it in pro wrestling. And to counter the "disappointment" mentioned earlier, fans can probably expect a sequel. After all, Foley has written three books on wrestling — so far.

Fave Foods OF THE FAMOUS

by Steven Austin

Janet Hopkins

The delightful combination of wine and song takes on a contemporary twist thanks to Diva Janet Hopkins, universally recognized as one of the most gifted sopranos of the modern age. Aria is a first in the worlds of fine wine and classical music. The Diva personally blended her own wine and selected each song for her CD, with the goal that Aria will expose more people to classical music and world-class wine. What a great gift! Miss Hopkins is a 16-year veteran of The New York Metropolitan Opera, and continues to thrill audiences worldwide. She will be back in the recording studio in 2008, working on two new CD projects. Get Aria at www.TulipHillWinery.com For more info on Miss Hopkins: www.JanetEHopkins.com

How was Aria conceived?

"Aria was the brainchild of my West Coast publicist, Laura Kirkham. She enjoys connections with the fabulous Tulip Hill Winery and knows that the owner, Kristi Brown, is a big opera fan. Over a glass of wine she proposed the prospect of me blending my own wine at Tulip Hill and recording a CD of music that would complement it. Everyone loved the idea, and Aria was conceived. A natural pairing!"

My favorite opera scene involving food or beverage:

"Food is definitely not as important as drinking in the opera world. From the toasts in "Carmen" to welcome the Toreador, to the champagne toast by Prince Orlofsky in "Die Fledermaus," alcohol has been used as a social centering on stage. My favorite scene is the glorious music from "Cavalleria Rusticana." The town folk have just left the church after Easter Sunday services to celebrate a day of rest and leisure. They meet at the Inn and raise their glasses in a robust, joyous toast to wine, life and love."

Compare making Aria cuvee with making great music.

"Each requires attention to detail and feeling, and the resolution to trust both. When blending my wine, I tried different combinations of varietals. Doing this took quite a bit of time as each blend was accompanied by deep conversation, discussing the emotions evoked by the wine, and of course fitting the blend to my palate. Ed West, the wine maker for Tulip Hill Winery, was extremely helpful.

"When choosing the music for Aria, I tried many songs. Not only did the songs need to touch my heart, but they needed to work in conjunction with each other. A song that sounds great by itself may not blend into the CD, much like a great Cab grape might not be as good in a blended wine. After much savoring and singing from the soul, the music fell into place. A deep, rich experience on both levels of wine and music melded into Aria."
